Dear Mr. Cameron:

I received your letter requesting that our office reopen your case from 1987. You stated that this office was your trial counsel. Court records reveal that your trial attorneys were Becky Moore and James Clark, neither of whom have ever been employed by The Public Defender Office. It appears this office was initially appointed to the case, but that Mr. Clark subsequently entered his appearance and was trial counsel.

Our office is unable to assist you since we have not been appointed by the Court as your attorneys. The only way you could obtain legal assistance would be if your family were to hire an attorney or if one of the prisoner rights groups or legal clinics were to take the case. There is a post-conviction assistance project at the University of Virginia School of Law, Charlottesville, Virginia, 22903, that may be able to assist you or give you a referral.

Sincerely yours,

Melinda Douglas
Public Defender
